PART II – Future Plans and Development Prospects

Outline of action plan for the next biennium and short/medium and long-term development prospects. Please do not hesitate to refer to difficulties that the Chair has experienced (Not exceeding 300 words)

This 2019 plan is part of the 2016-2020 Work Plan that aligns and guides towards an articulated horizon of four years, in which it is conceived with a particular commitment that the construction of more inclusive societies based on a humanistic and innovative vision, mandate of UNESCO that CUDH-UNAM assumes as a renewed commitment.

This plan is also inspired by document 37 C/4 approved by the General Conference of UNESCO and within the framework of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and the 2030 Agenda.

As a benchmark in the face of the new challenges imposed by the world environment, culture and education are a fundamental pillar for strengthening the foundations of lasting peace and equitable and sustainable development. It should be noted that Mexico has been going through a serious human rights crisis for some years, which has been pointed out by various rapporteurs and mechanisms of the United Nations, at the same time, the Inter-American System has extensive work in defense and promotion in the country.

Accordingly, the main commitment of CUDHUNAM is to implement a cultural project that educates and trains students, professionals, teachers and researchers with excellent academic quality, integrity, responsible, objective, reflective, tolerant, inclusive, sensitive to the gender perspective and the values inherent to human rights, who can develop skills and capacities in the face of the challenges and problems posed by the complex socio-political reality at different levels: local, regional, state and international.

In this context, the actions and proposals to be implemented to strengthen CUDHUNAM are: mission and vision of leadership, innovation and challenges; excellence, academic quality and respect for human rights; management, social responsibility and university ethics; strengthening of the teaching, research development, diversity, equality, social inclusion, internationalization, linkage and institutional cooperation.

The tasks covered by these areas are: the transformation of the teaching-learning process, in accordance with the human rights-based approach and the social dynamics that prevail in reality; reinforcing the presence of the CUDH-UNAM in the debate on human rights on the national agenda. and regional; strengthen people's capacity to react to situations of injustice, violence and impunity that deeply damage the social fabric; encourage collaboration networks with national and foreign university agencies and institutions; the incorporation of the human rights approach and the perspective of gender in policies, plans and institutional actions; the development of the skills of the educational community in ICTs; disseminate knowledge and academic research products to promote the integral development of people, finally, the promotion of a critical conscience of socio-political thought, to be an example of inclusive behavior and socially responsible.

Within this framework, the CUDH-UNAM established the following 3 fields of study, with their respective lines of research, and seminars:

XXVII anniversary of the CUDH-UNAM and XVII of Human Rights in the FCPyS.

The CUDH-UNAM was founded from the creation of the Permanent Seminar on Human Rights, based in the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences of the UNAM, as well as a series of events held between 1991 and 1995, being this university space a pioneer in the training of teaching and student personnel in the field of human rights in Mexico, from the social sciences. It currently has a distance education platform on the subject, it has become a benchmark in human rights education in the country and in Latin America.

The UNESCO Chair of Human Rights of the National Autonomous University of Mexico (CUDH-UNAM) based in the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences, was founded on October 9, 1996, as a comprehensive system of research, teaching, study, documentation, promotion, dissemination and defense of human rights in the country, recognized through a collaboration agreement between the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) and UNAM.

Commemoration of 40 years of CEDAW

We have influenced the teaching of human rights, in research and we have been able to transcend impacts in the defense of human rights and in particular of women with academic support, even proposing regulations or bodies, based on our work in the work of In this research, we have even managed to get international organizations to make recommendations to Mexico, but it is not enough, nor is it enough to change the norm or academic progress if we do not manage to transform the misogynistic and impunity mentalities and culture of our society.

Therefore, we will commemorate 40 years of the Convention on the elimination of all forms of discrimination against women. CEDAW for its acronym in English.
